HUGHES
Quinine Hair Tonic,
The best preparation made for the Hair. It im-partes Vigor to the Scalp, cleanses it and thoroughly eradicates Dandruff, and stops the Hair falling. Price 25 and 50 cents. Prepared by R. H. JORDAN & CO., Druggists,

Were search made by the angels throughout this nation for the man dearest to God, where think you he would most likely be found? Very possible not at the head of armies, or in the mansions of the rich, the mighty and the noble, or in the halls of learning, or in the chair of state, or in the resounding pulpit; but quite as probably, I think even more probably, remote from the crowd and struggles of ambition, in solitude, perhaps in some humble cottage of the poor, or in an asylum of charity. Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones.

NOTICE OF SALE.
On Friday the 1st day of August, 1890, we will sell at public auction at the late residence of G. L. Rea, deceased, all the Personal Property belonging to his Estate and not disposed of by his Will. The Property consists of Horses, Mules, Cows, Sheep, Hogs, Buggies, Wagons, etc. This sale will commence at 11 o'clock A. M.
The Property will be sold on a credit of six months.

HOSIERY! HOSIERY!!
Hosiery at Seigle's worth buying and worth wearing. The color in our Fast Black is guaranteed absolutely fast. It will not crack or stain the feet or garments. It will not be affected by washing powders. If there be any discoloration after wearing, the original good shade is thoroughly regained by washing. It will not injure the fabric and is free from all poisonous substances. For service it is unequalled in the market. Ask for the T. L. S. and Silver Crown Brands and have no other. They are to be had in Ladies, Misses and Children.

B. NICHOLS.
This name is known to the majority of the people of Mecklenburg and surrounding country as the "Reliable" in the Furniture line and leader in new styles. Should you want any article described below, we will give them to you at greatly reduced prices, and defy competition.
It will be to your advantage to remember this.

Parlor Suits.
One 7 piece Suit, solid Walnut Frame, very high back, upholstered in plush, handsomely carved and ornamented, at $27.
One 5 piece Suit, Solid Cherry Frame, upholstered in fine quality of Silk Plush, combination colors, shell and one of the handsomest Suits in stock, at $38.
One Suit in Lavender Plush, six pieces, latest thing out, and something worth calling to see in order to keep up with the times, at $65.

Lounges.
Think of it. You can have a neat Raw Silk Lounge in your house for $45. No household should be without this useful article when it can be obtained at such a small price.
One Moquette Lounge, solid Walnut Frame, best quality, at $6.
One Wool Plush Lounge, Walnut Frame, very high back, handsomely carved, at $12.
One Silk Plush Lounge, solid Walnut Frame, neatly carved and ornamented, high back, at $13.75.

One handsome Turkish Lounge, new design, and something different from anything you have seen, at $14.
Everything looks nice on paper, as you will possibly object to my to my large stock, I can convince you that I mean what I say, and sell Goods cheaper than any house in this section.

CANE MATTINGS.
DRESS GOODS.
There was a stir among the Cane Matting buyers yesterday, and we were very much gratified to see them start off so well. The season for them is here, and many wish to fix their home before the visitors arrive in the city. It's to be a gay and lively summer, so buy your Matting now and thus secure the first pick, and then you will have a cool and comfortable home during the hot summer months. Rugs of China Matting that are three feet wide by six feet long.

Dress Goods.
No let up here. Buyers from all parts of the State are securing their Spring Costumes of the best and lowest grades of Corn Meal as there is difference between the best grades patent and the cheapest low grade Flour.
We have a large and well selected Stock, and pay strict and careful attention to the Retail Trade.

Only a Boy.
I am only a boy, with a heart light and free; I am brimming with mischief and frolic and glee;
I dance with delight, and I whistle and sing,
And you think such a boy never cares for a thing.
Now off then I've worked hard at piling the wood.
Have done all my errands and tried to be good,
I think I might then have a rest or a play: But how shall I manage? Can any, any one say?

If I start for a stroll it is "keep off the street!"
If I go to the house, it is "Mercy! what feet!"
If I take a seat, 'tis "Here give me that chair!"
If I lounge by a window, 'tis "Don't loiter there!"

If I ask a few questions, 'tis "Don't bother me!"
Or else, "Such a torment I never did see!"
I am scolded or cuffed if I make the least noise, Till I think in this wide world there's no place for boys.

At school they are shocked if I want a good play;
At home or at church I am so in the way, And it's hard, for I don't see that boys are to blame,
And most any boy, too, will say just the same

Of course, a boy can't know as much as a man, But we try to do right just as hard as we can.
Have the patience, dear people, though oft we annoy,
For the best man on earth once was "Only a Boy."

—Wilmington Messenger.

Simplicity of Children.

What young people keep concealed, children often let out in their simplicity.
A striking illustration of this appeared some time ago in a Sunday-school. A teacher had been telling the class the story of the rich man and Lazarus, when he asked the question: "Now, children, which would you rather be, the rich man or Lazarus?" A little boy spoke out and said: "I would rather be the rich man while I live, and Lazarus when I die." If we are not mistaken that is about the sentiment of a large number of people.
They want to roll in the luxury of the rich man while living on earth, and then be carried on angels' wings to heaven.
But the Master says, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon." That's one of the moral impossibilities.

"What if, after all your praying and trusting, your soul should be lost forever?" inquired a raw young minister of an old Scottish peasant woman, who had been drawing her soul out of Christ for forty years. "And is that all the length ye has got my mon?" she replied. "I can only say, sir, that God would lose more than I would lose her soul, and that was her soul; but God would lose his character for truth, and then the world would go to ruin. I hang on his promises, and God wad na dare to break his promises." The simple-hearted old saint knew whom she believed, and that he was able to keep all that was committed to him.—United Presbyterian.

E. M. ANDREWS,

Furniture, Piano and Organ Dealer.

PIANOS—Chickering, Mathushek and Sterling Pianos are too well known to the people to require any introduction from me. Every one who is interested in them, if they do not please you, you need not keep them. There are no lower prices, nor easier terms offered by any one than those offered by me.

ORGANS—What are you going to do about that Organ you promised your wife and daughter? Buy nothing but the celebrated Mason and Hamlin or Sterling Organ, and you are not always having them repaired. Sterling Organs for only $50 and Mason & Hamlin's for only $85. Write me for descriptive price list.

FURNITURE—Never before since I have been in business was my stock of Furniture so large and complete in every line as it is to-day, and prices were never lower. I keep right up with the styles, and represent every thing just as it is. If you buy anything from me and it is not as represented return it and I will pay your money back. Who could do more? Who could ask more? Write for my prices.

MOSQUITO CANOPIES—I sell 90-inch reversible frame Mosquito Canopies with all the fixtures for hanging for only $2.

On the Jefferson Monument.

The original Jefferson monument, now standing on the campus of the Missouri University, was designed by Mr. Jefferson himself a short time before his death. It consists of an obelisk of rough granite six feet high, resting on a plain base of the same material three feet in height. On one face of the obelisk is a marble tablet with this inscription:

THOMAS JEFFERSON,
Author of the Declaration of American Independence, of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom, and the Father of the University of Virginia.

In the summer of 1893, at the suggestion and request of President S. S. Laws, with the aid of Professor Fleet, this monument, which had for more than half a century marked the burial place of Mr.
Jefferson at Monticello, having been displaced by a new and larger one voted by the Congress of the United States, was presented to the University of Missouri by the Misses Randolph of Virginia, great-grandchildren of Mr. Jefferson. It is an object of national interest, and will be more and more cherished by the older alumni of the University of Virginia, scattered throughout the West, to whom this stone will be a pleasant reminder of their visits to that Mecca of civil and religious freedom.—Edward A. Allen.

It is assumed that there is no substance which is absolutely rigid. The earth is a plastic mass. Let a mountain range disappear, the plain on which it once stood rises when relieved of its weight.
Let a lake disappear, and its bed becomes contorted, and the contour of its shore line is changed. The walls of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado are moving toward each other, and should it become an arid chasm, they would some time meet. Now in the southern and eastern portion of the United States the "fall line" is the boundary of the permanent continent. The "continental outline" is the one hundred fathom hydrographic contour, as determined by the United States Coast Survey; and from its crest there is a drop of over three thousand feet—a front equal to one side of the Grand Canyon. From the "fall-line," to this front there is a creeping forward, which is comparable to the ice sheets of Greenland; therefore cannot we say that the land at present is crowding down the sea, instead of the sea encroaching upon the land, which is only an apparent movement, not the real one? The distance from the backbone of the Appala-chians to the historic geologic cedar streets of the New Jersey coast has increased, and is increasing. The deltas of the Mississippi valley and the Gulf coast are not only increasing by deposits of sediment, but are moving forward as well. Therefore may it not be expected in good geologic work on the North American continent that there will be encountered discrepancies between successive determinations of positions which can only be thus accounted for and understood?—Gilbert Thompson.

A Rare Old Document.
We were shown recently a document of rare value both for the subject matter and the signatures attached to it. The document was a certificate issued to D.
Y. Fisher for gallantry in an engagement at Mileno, Mexico, on the 26th day of March, 1847. It was issued in November 1849, and bears the autograph signatures of J. K. Polk, President, and W. L.
Marcy, Secretary of War.
Mr. Fisher was for a long time a citizen of this city and has a number of relatives here who have a just pride in the preservation of the certificate.—Newbern Journal.

Who Are the Greatest Readers?

Which class of our population is the most addicted to reading? Some interesting light is thrown on this question by the latest report of the Birmingham free libraries committee. Among other tables given is one showing the occupations of borrowers admitted during 1889. Here are some of the figures: Scholars and students, 1,392; clerks and book keepers, 1,138; errand and office boys, 301; teachers, 293; shop assistants, 290; jewelers, 216; compositors and printers, 192; milliners and dressmakers, 109. Almost at the bottom of the list come journalists, 6; news agents, 2; and reporters, 2. Is this because they have libraries of their own, or because the people who write in newspapers lose the taste for reading books?
—Pall Mall Gazette.

The locomotives just shipped from the Baldwin Works, to be used on the railway between Jerusalem and Jaffa, will take some of the sentiments out of a pilgrimage to the Holy Land. But they will certainly make traveling there more convenient and comfortable. One may even be able to go down by rail from Jerusalem to Jericho without falling among thieves.

According to La Nature, the year 1752, records the fact that the property by India rubber of erasing pencil marks was discovered at about that epoch by Mr.
Magellan, a descendant of the famous navigator whose name it perpetuated in the strait discovered by him at the southern extremity of South America. Previous to this, bread crumbs had been used as a pencil mark eraser.

The Men Who Stay.

Young mechanics make a very gro-gious mistake, says the Builders' Gazette, when they begin to think that they do too much for their employers when they work a few moments overtime to complete a small task they are performing, just at the time the whistle blows to quit work. More young men have been kept from receiving an advance in their wages from this than from any known cause.

Employers watch the movement of young men very closely, and the least little thing often times places them in unfavorable light before their employers.
It is the young man who studies the interest of his employer, and is not afraid to give him a few moments, that gets the rapid advancement. He is the young man selected when there are any favors to be granted.

I can tell in twenty minutes in any workshop the young man who is most likely to succeed in his trade. He is the last to leave his work, and is always prompt in beginning it. These fellows that drop their work at the moment the whistle blows, are always the ones that the employer is ready to discharge when business gets a little slack.

The young man who takes the interest of his work at heart, and his employer into consideration, is very rarely laid off in slack times.

Woman's Place and Work.

The faith of the women of the Gospels far outstripped that of the men of the Gospels. Women "loved much" and women believed much, and women exhibited unwavering fidelity, while one apostle hated Christ, and another doubted his resurrection, and a third denied him. It is the gentler, the weaker, the more emotional sex who perceive, then accept, and finally are carried away with those great and vital enthusiasms which transform and elevate the world. It is the sisters, mothers, and wives who carry out in their lives the pattern of love, purity, and self-denial which is still on earth a continuation of Christ's life, an incarnation of divine grace and loveliness which never fails, which now can suffer no passion and no death, but speaks loud and unceasingly the child and refines the brother and acts upon the heart of the husband with a ceaseless plea for what is good and what is divine.
—The Churchman.

Determined to Tell the Truth.

The robust and healthful independence which should always be suggested by the name "American" has not been wholly monopolized by the girls, much of it is now possessed. A man of very genuine and inspiring independence was a witness in a western Pennsylvania court not long ago. A lawyer who had the cross-examining of the witness tell a certain question had been asked and as much of it answered as fulfilled the lawyer's desires.

"Stop there. Don't tell any more about that."
"But there is more to tell. I haven't fully answered the question."

The muzzle was held firmly in place, but the witness was not subdued. Even when the court had rebuked him he was still respectfully insubordinate.

"I have been brought here by authority," he argued. "I have been required to take a solemn oath to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Now you must allow me to keep the oath you made me swear.
Neither court nor counsel has a right to force me into perjury because the counsel don't want just quite the whole truth.
I insist on my right to give the remainder of my answer."

"And, if you'll believe me," said the disgusted lawyer, "that hayseed court sustained him and I lost my case.—Pitts-

Charging for Knowing How

"I paid a bill the other day," said a large manufacturer to me, "without a murmur, simply because of the way it was worded. My engineer found that his hot water pipe would not work, and after putting at it for an hour sent for a machinist. He bothered with it half a day and concluded it must come apart.
It was much annoyed for that meant the stoppage of my factory for a long time.
Before I gave the order to take it to pieces some one suggested that a neighboring engineer be sent for, as he was a sort of genius in the matter of machinery.
He came, and after studying the pump while he took a hammer and gave three sharp raps over the valve. 'I reckon it'll go now,' he quietly said, and putting on steam, '
